

Pet Driver's Licenses with Watermarks

A watermark is often a faded image or text used as a background of a document/page/item or slide. It is meant to enhance, but not be the focal point of the document/page/item or slide. Watermarks are sometimes used in the form of a logo, discreetly placed on a slide or page/item to brand the presentation or document.

Creating watermarks

Select graphic – make it moveable and then move it into your text box or autoshape. Double click on your graphic – The Format Picture menu should now appear. Next select Picture – Image Control Color: – Washout - OK. If your graphic is too light, go back to the Format Picture menu by double clicking on your graphic. Now select Image Control Color: – Automatic - OK. Your original graphic should appear again. Double click on your graphic again to bring up the Format Picture menu. This time create the washout yourself by moving the brightness and contrast to the right to washout the color on your graphic.

Typing text over a watermark

Insert a textbox. Double click the textbox. Select Fill Color: No Fill. Select Line Color: No Line. Now you can move this text box over your watermark and begin typing your text.
